Peacock Lane Holiday Lights Displays

Everything You Need to Know to Enjoy Your Visit to Peacock Lane

CORRECTED November 29, 2015: The holiday season is approaching, and residents of Southeast Portland's Peacock Lane are once again planning their legendary light displays. One of Portland's most beloved holiday traditions, Peacock Lane residents have been decking out their homes for decades.

As always, Peacock Lane does not charge an admission fee to view the lights, and asks that groups and individuals help keep the event commercial-free by not distributing flyers or soliciting for sales or donations.

2015 Schedule

Lights on December 15th-31st from 6 to 11 PM (midnight on 12/24 and 12/31)

PEDESTRIANS ONLY December 18th, 19th, and 20th (Friday, Saturday, and Sunday)

In the event of additional, unplanned closures by Portland Police due to large crowds, updates will be posted to Twitter, FaceBook, and peacocklane.org pages. Those who must see the lights from a car are encouraged to check online before visiting.

Free Cocoa and Cider

Cocoa booth open December 15th-24th, 6 PM until sold out.

Cocoa and cider are provided free of charge, but donations of cash and canned goods are accepted at the cocoa booth when open. A portion of cocoa booth proceeds will be donated to Make-A-Wish® Oregon.

Transportation and Parking

Traffic can become quite heavy in the area during the lights season. Visitors to Peacock Lane are encouraged to view the lights by foot, if possible, for the best experience. Utilize free street parking several blocks away (do not park in Walgreens lot) or public transportation (TriMet buses 15, 75, and 20 have stops within a block; <http://trimet.org/go/cgi-bin/plantrip.cgi>). Please be respectful of our neighbors when parking in the area.
